SMILE AND BE HAPPY!!!!

Murphy told Sullivan that his wife was driving him to drink. Sullivan thinks he is very lucky because his wife makes him walk!

Mrs. Feeney shouted from the kitchen "Is that you I hear spitting in the vase on the mantle piece?" "No," said himself, but I'm getting closer all the time.

A mother-in-law stopped by unexpectedly the recently married couple's house. She knocks on the door, then immediately walks in. She is shocked to see her daughter-in-law lying on the couch, totally naked. "What are you doing?" she asked. "I'm waiting for Jeff to come home from work," the daughter-in-law answered. "But you're naked!" the mother-in-law exclaimed. "This is my love dress," the daughter-in-law explained. "Love dress? But you're naked!" "Jeff loves me to wear this dress! It makes him happy and it makes me happy."

The mother-in-law on the way home thought about the love dress. When she got home she got undressed, showered, put on her best perfume and expectantly waited for her husband, lying provocatively on the couch. Finally her husband came home. He walked in and saw her naked on the couch. "What are you doing?" he asked. "This is my love dress," she replied. "Needs ironing," he says "What's for dinner?"

The sergeant doubting that he had distributed rifles to all the men, called out "All of ye that are without arms, hold up your hands."

The woman's husband had been slipping in and out of a coma for several months, yet she had stayed by his bedside every single day. One day, when he came to, he motioned for her to come nearer. As she went by him, he whispered, eyes full of tears, "You know what? You have been with me all through the bad times. When I got fired, you were there to support me. When my business failed, you were there. When I got shot, you were by my side. When we lost the house, you stayed right here. When my health started failing, you were still by my side. And do you know what? What dear?" She gently asked, smiling as her heart began to fill with warmth. "I think you're bad luck!"

'I'd like some nails,' Mick requested at the hardware store. 'How long would you like them?' asked the man. 'Forever, if that's all right with you,' said Mick.

At the racetrack last March, Murphy leaned over and whispered to his fiend Seamus, 'Now would you be wanting the winner of the next race?' 'Oh, no thanks, Murphy,' uttered Seamus, 'I've only got a small yard.'

Casting and Gathering

Seamus Heaney

for Ted Hughes

Years and years ago, these sounds took sides:

On the left bank a green silk tapered cast
Went whispering through the air, saying hush
And lush, entirely free, no matter whether
It swished above the hayfield or the river.

On the right bank, like a speeded-up corncrake,
A sharp ratcheting kept on and on
Cutting across the stillness as another
Fisherman gathered line-lengths off his reel.

I am still standing there, awake and dreamy.
I have grown older and can see them both
Moving their arms and rods, working away,
Each one absorbed, proofed by the sounds he's making.

One sound is saying, 'You aren't worth tuppence,
But neither is anybody. So watch Number One!'
The other says, 'Go with it! Give and swerve.
You are everything you feel beside the river.'

I love hushed air. I trust contrariness.
Years and years go past and I cannot move
For I see that when one man casts, the other gathers
And then vice versa, without changing sides.

Mary Swanzy, Irish Artist 1882 ~ 1978

Mary Swanzy was born in Dublin in 1882 to a very prosperous family, her father being Sir Henry Rosborough Swanzy, this allowed her access to an education in Arts that surpassed the average artist at the time. She attended art school in Dublin and in 1905 she moved to Paris and exhibited occasionally alongside artists such as Picasso and Braque. After Paris she returned to Dublin and was one of the first artists to bring Cubism to Ireland. She was also one of the most talented women working in Ireland at the time. She was a dedicated Modernist repeatedly using swirling patterns and rich colors capturing landscapes, lush vegetation and flowers in her paintings. Mary Swanzy lived the latter part of her life in London and continued to paint up to her death at age 96. Ten years before she died, Swanzy was honored with a retrospective exhibition at the Municipal Gallery of Modern Art in Dublin.

St. Patrick's Week for 2018

March 11th The Annual St. Patrick Mass at St. Patrick's Historic. This was the largest number of people attending the St. Patrick Mass in quite a few years. I was proud of the number of Hibernians, who attended.

Deacon Tom and Father Hartigan

Msgr. Vasko

March 15 James Kilbane at the Maumee Indoor theater gave a wonderful performance. However, The number of people attending was very disappointing. Thank goodness for Greg Cassidy. He came in and saved the performance by setting up and running the sound system. We were assured that the sound would be set up and all that would be needed was someone to work a very simple board. Thanks also, to Ann Dollman, Madonna Pauken, Sue LaPoint, Sherri McNeill and Penny Collins for helping in the lobby.
